

Dates: 14-18 December 2015

Location: New York, USA

Intensive Orientation Course (IOC)

The Intensive Orientation Course for Heads of Military Components (HOMC) is designed to prepare appointed/ designated HOMCs so as to enable them to discharge their duties and responsibilities with maximum proficiency in UN Peacekeeping Operations. This course will be primarily in a lecture/briefing format delivered by selected mentor(s) and subject matter experts (SME), which encourages active participation of the trainee(s).

Course Objectives:

The objective is to improve the participant(s)' understanding of the structure, institutional context and processes of UN peacekeeping missions and to help them apply their professional skills/tools of command and control, leadership, planning and decision making, working with other components, personnel management, crisis management etc.

Target Audience:

UN Force Commanders and Deputy Force Commanders

Participation:

By invitation from Office of Military Affairs (OMA)

